This bug's got a bite

By ALISON ALOISIO

Bethel-area residents who prepared for this New Year's bug sailed into the new millennium problem-free. But many who didn't take precautions are paying the price - a system-wide shutdown lasting for days or possibly weeks.

The bug, however, has nothing to do with computers, and -- unlike the computer version -- it lives up to its billing.

It's the flu.

"It seemed to come for Christmas," said Jan Whitworth, a physician's assistant at the Bethel Family Health Center. "We didn't see it the week before, then all of a sudden -- bang."

Many area residents joined much of Maine in succumbing to the symptoms of the influenza A virus -- high fever, cough, sore throat and widespread body and joint pain.

The bug can keep its victims feeling under the weather for up to three weeks, said Dr. Richard DeCarolis. The most intense symptoms usually last a few days.

BFHC does have anti-viral medicine, which, if administered within 48 hours of the onset of symptoms, can alleviate the symptoms somewhat and shorten the duration of illness.

Bethel won't seek cash for out-of-town police calls

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Bethel will not be asking surrounding towns to kick in some money for emergency services provided to them by the Bethel Police Department.

It's not that Bethel would not like the money, but the selectmen agreed Monday the problems such an arrangement might generate outweighed any likely gains to the town.

The Bethel Police Department annually spends approximately one percent of its time responding to calls in nearby towns -- usually in cases where the state police or county deputies need immediate back up, or when there is an emergency underway and the BPD is the nearest available police unit.

The other towns pay nothing for these services. The cost is borne entirely by Bethel taxpayers -- and some of them are not happy with that situation.

Last month, in a Town Meeting discussion of the purchase of new BPD cruisers, some residents complained of seeing Bethel police at out-of-town calls. (Other speakers,

Welcome to Year 2000

Whether it was the novelty of the Year 2000 -- or word just got around that Bethel is a good place to celebrate -- this year's New Year's Bethel drew more people "by far" than last year's, according to organizers. Stan Howe, executive director of the Bethel Historical Society, estimated "conservatively" that between 600 and 700 ticket purchasers participated in the New Year's activities and entertainment. Others spent time on the common without officially taking part in the events. At last year's inaugural event, between 400 and 500 bought tickets, Howe said. And even better, the historical society, which sponsors NYB, made a little money this time around. Like last year, the crowd was a mix of locals and visiting out-of-towners. "We had people from as far away as Florida and Ohio," said Howe. "One man from Ohio was in Rumford on business, heard about it (the celebration), bought tickets and brought his family," he said. Many area residents who often hold family or friend gatherings during the holidays brought their groups along, according to Susan Herlihy, another BHS organizer. "People were pleased with the mix, as well as the quality, of the entertainment," she said. Fred Garbo, Maine humorist Gary Crocker and the State Street Jazz Band in particular played to packed houses during the evening. New this year was a Food Court at the Moses Mason House. "Sometimes there were wall-to-wall people," said Howe, purchasing hot drinks, food and warming themselves by the large fireplace. The bonfire on the common was also a popular spot, especially come midnight. As the hour approached, New Year's celebrants -- unsure of the exact time -- started their own impromptu countdown. The fireworks at the Bethel Inn fired off just as the count concluded. In future years, said Herlihy, she hopes organizers can devise a precise timing method to mark midnight for the celebrants. Here, several people watch the fireworks from the gazebo on the common. (More photos, page 4)

'Non-golf' links proposed for Main St.

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Stroke your putter, poking a potato into a pit?

Wind up and wing a watermelon out a window?

Neither challenge is likely to play at St. Andrews, but come September these and similar games may be playing out at numerous "holes" along Main Street.

And the "non-golf golfers" won't have to worry about having their concentration broken by the hustle and bustle of normal village traffic.

The Bethel Board of Selectmen has given informal "concept approval" to closing off Main Street for five hours on Sunday, Sept. 24,

One-day event would require closing street for five hours for a "Bethel Village Non-golf, Golf/Hole Tournament." The new event is intended to call attention to the village and to allow the Bethel Village Association to make some money.

Bob Laux, a member of the informal village association, made the pitch to the selectmen Monday. The Sept. 24 date was chosen, he said, because it is the day after the annual Harvest Fest (which has been shortened for this year to one day).

In a letter to the selectmen, Laux described the proposed event as "a business/merchant or 'friend of Bethel' tournament involving some level of skill (to be defined) in which teams of entered contestants will attempt to place an object (golf ball, tennis ball, water balloon

Be careful out there on the ice

By ALISON ALOISIO

Cold temperatures and the lack of snow brought skaters out onto Bethel area lakes in large numbers last week. But the Warden Service is continuing to warn winter recreationists about ice conditions on Maine ponds and lakes, especially after the precipitation of recent days.

The bog area of North Pond in Greenwood was a popular spot for both local and visiting skaters last week, according to one pond resident. Most seemed to exercise caution, not venturing out onto the main part of the lake.

Round Pond also saw its share of skaters, while South Pond played host to ice fishermen.

Snowmobilers -- desperate as they may be to get out on their machines -- are apparently still steering clear of most area ponds.

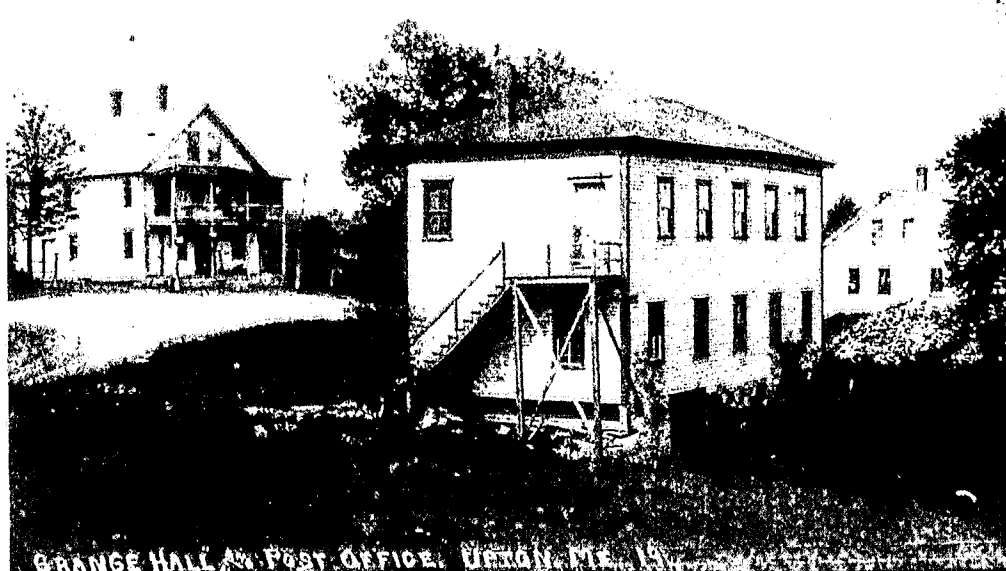

That's probably wise, according to Mark Latti of the Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife.

"I'd be real leery of taking a vehicle out," he said. The recent rain, said Latti, creates a lot of current through tributaries running into

Long ago Upton's Grange Hall enjoyed a brief spruce-gum heyday

1999 marked the centennial for Upton's one-time Spruce Gum Factory, which sits nestled at Upton Corner overlooking Lake Umbagog. The two-story structure, built by Frank W. Bragg, was added to the Maine Historic Resources Inventory in August, and is now eligible for nomination to the National Register of Historic Places. The exact birth date of the grand old gal was unearthed by Berlin's historical researcher, Paul "Poof" Tardiff (in the Berlin Reporter, July 7, 1899), finally answering the oft-asked question concerning the specific age of the building.

When in operation, the gum refinery kept four workers busy amidst the steam and pungent forest aroma, as they processed five to six tons of "lump" or raw gum into a pure chewable product. The gum was then formed into small sticks, rolled in oiled paper, and shipped off to Boston and other distant locales.

"Digging" gum provided a little extra income during the winter months to those willing to tromp through the northern spruce forests, where they would pry gobs of the hardened tree excretion from the bark to be sold by the pound to such persons as Frank Bragg. It was also traditionally gathered by woodsmen in winter camp, who whiled away spare time carving little spruce gum boxes, much the way whalers did scrimshaw, in which to present the gum to their

NEW YEAR'S BETHEL THANKS

To the Editor:

All the wonderful comments about Bethel Historical Society's New Year's Bethel are appreciated -- the variety of excellent entertainment, the delightful glow of the bonfire, the ambience at the Moses Mason House and the super fireworks all wrapped in the greeting-card setting of the beautifully decorated town on a perfect-for-getting-out winter evening. The Bethel Historical Society is grateful beyond measure and says a huge thank you to the many, many volunteers whose efforts brought it all together.

Planning the evening started early in the year by the Steering Committee of Vicki Rackliffe (Mahoosuc Arts), Robin Zinchuk (Chamber of Commerce), Jean Bass (West Parish Congregational Church), Charlie Sullivan (Sunday River Ski Resort), Susan Isham (Sunday River Inn & Cross Country Center), Jackie Van Leuven (Bethel Historical Society). The enthusiastic support and cooperation within the group is the foundation on which the event was built. This energy charged the New Year's Committee of the Bethel Historical Society, which in turn got very busy.

The program was designed by Jack Nordahl, copied at Sunday River by Christy and Dee and folded by Sandy at Sunday River plus Betty Perkins, Connie Thurston, Barbara Douglass, Grace McKivergan and others while they were on duty at the society museum shop. Gerard and Deena at The Maine Press and Eric, Donna and Carole at Groan & McGurn were very helpful. Ted Orino circulated posters and programs in a 50-mile radius to many businesses, who gladly displayed them. Sunday River's Jeff Sterling spruced up last year's signs and produced new ones. Mary McPheters and Brad Jerome distributed programs to condos and incoming guests. The Chamber of Commerce, The Bethel Citizen, and both stores of Maine Line Products sold pins. Sandwiches and sweets for the entertainers were provided by Jan Stowell, who formed a brigade of Sis Post, Ginny Cole, Ginny Gamble, Helen Morton, Sylvia Wight, Gwyneth Bohr, Lois Kilroy. These welcome goodies were distributed by Mimi Rackliffe.

The Rev. Jean Bass (host church) and the Rev. Gwyneth Bohr, Episcopal House Church, sponsor of the New Year's ecumenical service where Mary Valentine (it was her idea for the service) played special organ music, and participants explored what to leave behind as well as what to carry forward or add in this millennium.

Outward Bound's David Walker constructed the pyramid of wood for the ever-popular bonfire as well as the circle of rustic benches and the sticks for toasting the marshmallows were given by the Gliddens of the Bethel Foodliner. Outward Bounders worked shifts throughout the evening.

Stan Howe has more in his column about the special lighted vehicle parade which was led by Bethel Police with Al Barth, society president, who torched the bonfire to declare the venues open: Gould Academy's Bingham Auditorium and Bingham Gymnasium, West Parish Congregational Church and Crescent Park School. House managers were Susan Isham, The Revs. Jean and Brendon Bass, Nancy White, Marge Stockford, Chip Cruthers, Vicki Rackliffe, Cathy Newell, Stan Howe. The Wights at Sunday River Inn & Cross Country Ski Center again generously provided the shuttle bus and Joyce Howe was the good-natured driver. Maine Handicapped Skiing lent their radiophones again. Pin checkers/vendors were Kate and Sarah Edes, Bob and Lida Iles, Helen Morton, Lucy Nordahl, Dean and Priscella Walker, Lorrie and Mike Hoeh, Betsey Foster, Judy Haskell and Betty Perkins, Bill and Sylvia Wight, Nancy Morris, Lois Kilroy, Walter and Carol Hatch (who also hosted performers).

Delicious chili was made by Jim Lowe, Al Barth and Becky Kendall, who organized the food court and was present when Walter Hatch, Trustee chair, drew her name for the quilt.

Officer Henry Grenier of Bethel Police Force helped with traffic, the beautiful fireworks were provided by the Bethel Inn & Country Club and Bill Herlihy patiently and lovingly supported the coordinator's efforts.

Another dimension of the celebration, which is growing in popularity, are those who have found this fun evening to be the perfect time to host a gathering of friends or a family reunion.

The list is long, perhaps incomplete (unintentionally) and is yet another testimony to how we all work together to support each other's efforts -- making this great community the very special place to enjoy a healthy life. We welcome everyone to make their suggestions and comments known and not to hesitate to get involved -- we welcome new energy and ideas on how to improve the evening while preserving the community atmosphere where we and visitors and performers want to return for New Year's Bethel next year. Maybe with a visual countdown aid? Thank you.

TELSTAR LIBRARY VOLUNTEERS SOUGHT

To the Editor:

As the new century starts, an ongoing commitment to our community and its future was vital to the continuing success of our area. The library at Telstar Regional High School is currently in need of volunteers during the day throughout the school year. These volunteers are a very helpful resource to the library staff. To keep the library open after school, community members who can donate two hours on a Tuesday or Thursday afternoon are needed.

With the Middle School Science Fair coming up and high school projects being assigned, it is important that the students be able to use this resource after normal hours. Anyone interested in assisting at the library, please call Linda Blackman at 824-3596 or myself at 824-4375.

HER CARING SAVED THE DAY

To the Editor:

Many articles have appeared concerning the "cats" in West Bethel, and I would like to give credit to my daughter, Kathy-Jo Farren. Her love of animals led her to that house full of cats, 54 in all. She organized the entire project, from finding housing, to spay and neutering, shots and ear care and finally, after four and one-half weeks in quarantine in the Mountain Valley Greenery, to new and loving homes.

Every day at 6 a.m. Kathy-Jo and "her crew" cleaned cages, put in fresh food, kitty litter, a warm blanket and lots of love and handling, so each cat knew it was safe and loved. On Dec. 22, the last two cats went to their new homes.

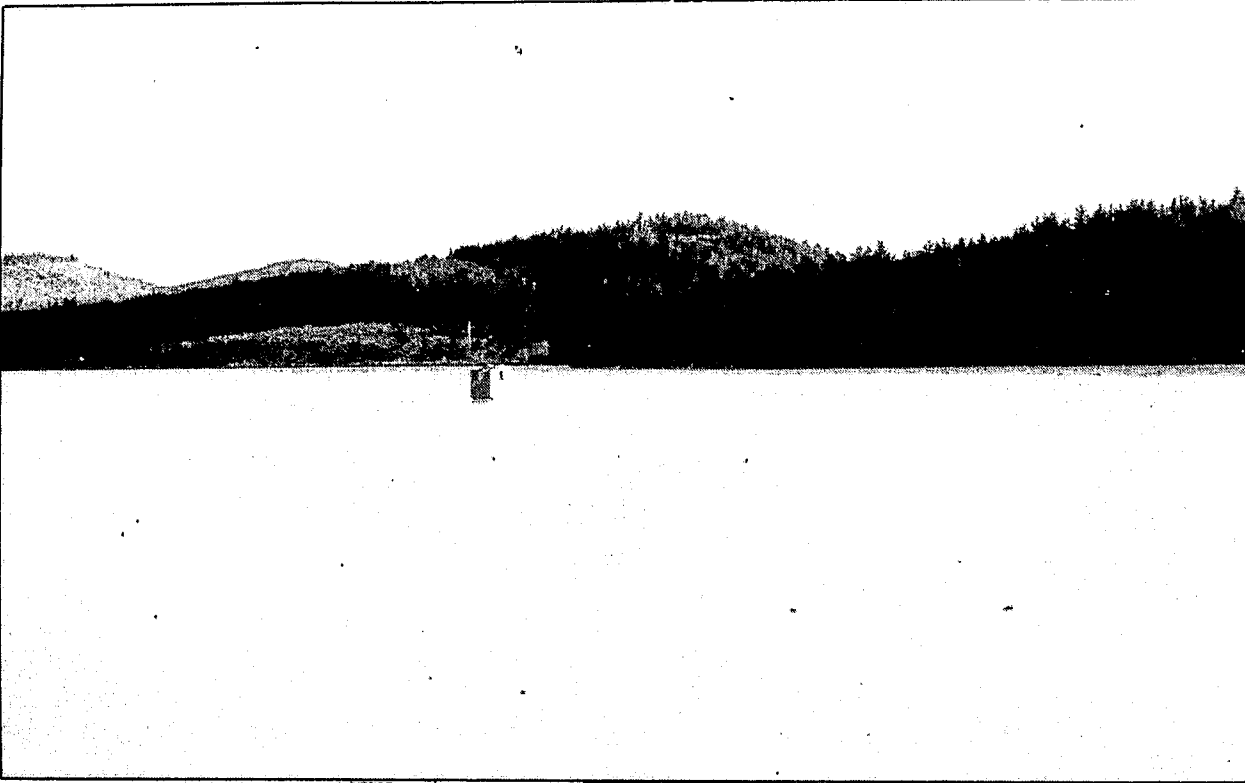

This was an undertaking that seemed impossible, but Kathy-Jo wouldn't give up. She deserves recognition for her caring and determination to see this project through.

I knew she could do it.

ponds. "It wears down the ice from underneath," he said. Recreationists should check before going out on the ice, and stay away from obvious currents, inlets and outlets. Prior to the rain, he said, "this weekend was pretty good in a lot of places."

That included Jim Sysko's small 12-acre pond in Newry, where he held a skating party on New Year's Eve.

"It was a foot thick," said Sysko. "I've been driving my truck on it since Christmas."

The small pond is also at a higher elevation than most larger ponds in the area, hastening the freezing.

Flu

said DeCarolis, is probably suffering from some other bug, because digestive symptoms don't go with the flu.

"Wham, it hit me"

Flu bug survivors say the virus strikes rapidly, and with a vengeance. Lenny Hoy of Greenwood said that on the Monday after Christmas, "I coughed twice, and it was like, wham, it hit me. Within a half hour I was going to bed."

And in bed he stayed. "I could not get up," said Hoy, because he felt so weak.

The experience made him think back to stories of people dying from influenza in the World War I era. "I thought, 'You know, people could die of this stuff,'" he said, if they have any infirmity going into the illness.

Hoy also said a fever repeatedly flared up and then quickly changed to chills.

At the Greenwood Town Office, Town Manager Carol Whitman got the bug -- and felt like she'd been hit by a Greenwood highway department truck.

"I got up (last Thursday) and said, 'this is not going to be a pretty day,'" she said. "I went home Thursday, went to bed and never got up until Monday. I couldn't get my head off the pillow."

Like Hoy, Whitman also experienced fever and chills, as well as a cough that left her stomach muscles sore.

She said she had planned to do some work in the office over the New Year's holiday. Now she's playing catchup.

The flu also brought municipal affairs in Woodstock to a halt -- at least for a day -- when Town Manager Vern Maxfield got the bug. Tuesday's regular selectmen's meeting was cancelled as a result.

Y2K ready

At least 600 area residents are expected to either remain flu-free or at least experience milder cases. They were the forward-thinkers who got flu shots this fall at one of several area clinics. "We had 180 people in one night in late October," said Whitworth.

The majority of those getting shots were the elderly and people with specific medical problems, said DeCarolis. But, he said, "anybody that just doesn't want to get (the flu) is eligible."

Some businesses, he said, sponsor clinics for their employees, to avoid widespread absenteeism. Gould Academy, for example, sponsored a clinic for staff and students.

Now that the bug is upon us, however, it's probably too late to get a shot. The vaccine does not provide protection until two weeks after it is given, and the number of cases in a flu wave or epidemic usually peaks in about three weeks.

For anyone looking ahead to next year, the shots are most effective for three months after they are administered, said DeCarolis, making October the optimum time for inoculation.

Chase sentenced

PARIS—Everett Chase, 39, of Rumford was sentenced last week to 60 days in jail and three years' probation for unlawful sexual contact with a girl under the age of 14. He pled guilty to the charge in what his attorney said was consensual sex void of threats, violence or coercion. Chase currently serves as animal control officer for Bethel, and formerly served in that capacity in several other northern Oxford County towns. He was ordered to register with the State Police as a sex offender and notify police of his residence and employment. He is not allowed to have contact with children under age 18, except for his children and others allowed by his parole officer. He may not own carry or use firearms. Chase must also undergo sexual offender and psychological counseling.

Police officers to get back wages

BETHEL—Bethel will pay more than $6,500 in past overtime wages to police officers Stan Moore and Henry Grenier. Police chief Darren Tripp discovered last March that the town had unknowingly violated the federal Fair Labor Standards Act. According to FLSA standards, overtime should be paid after 43 regular hours for public employers who have more than five people on the payroll. The town had been in violation for several years. As a result, Grenier will receive $4,375.59 and Moore $2,159.27. The officers have signed off on an agreement that will prevent them from collecting further back wages. The town is still negotiating a settlement with Tripp himself and another officer who was with the department in 1997. The funds for the back pay will be taken from the police payroll budget, which will create an overdraft. The town will deal with the overdraft in the spring.

Blood drive scheduled

NEWRY—Blood donors are needed for a Red Cross blood drive scheduled for Jan. 14 at Sunday River Ski Resort. To make an appointment, call Ed or Callie at 824-5084 or the Red Cross at 1-800-GIVE-LIFE. The drive will take place at the South Ridge Base Lodge from 1 to 6 p.m.

Irving closing 17 stores

LIVERMORE FALLS—The Irving Corp. plans to close its Rumford and Dixfield Mainway stores Jan. 10, according to company officials. The stores are two of 17 slated for closure in Maine and New Hampshire. After reviewing the performance of its stores, Irving decided the 17 did not show enough potential for future growth. All employees will be laid off and will receive a severance package. They may also re-apply for other positions in the company, according to officials.

King: plea deal was irresponsible

PARIS—The man who injured author Stephen King in a van accident last summer pled guilty Tuesday to driving to endanger and received a suspended jail sentence. In exchange for the guilty plea, a felony charge of aggravated assault against Bryan Smith was dismissed. Smith, 42, received a six-month suspended jail sentence and a 180-day license suspension. He was also put on a year's probation, during which he may not drive and must undergo psychological counseling if necessary. King said he was very disappointed that assistant district attorney Joseph O'Connor did not push for a trial on the assault charge. He called the plea bargain "irresponsible public business." King said it would have been better to fail in the case for the stronger charge than not try at all. The state would have had to prove that Smith acted recklessly, with a conscious disregard for King's safety, when he was distracted by his dog and swerved into King. The author was walking on Route 5 in Lovell at the time.

Earthquake strikes region

TURNER—The year 2000 started off with a rumble when an earthquake struck about 15 miles northwest of Lewiston. The quake did not do any damage, officials said. Monday's earthquake registered a 3.5 on the Richter scale, according to the National Earthquake Information Center in Golden, Colo. It struck at about 4:06 p.m. and lasted only a few seconds, scientists said. The quake was felt as far north as Oakland, Sidney and Augusta. It originated near Norway, Turner and Minot. "It lasted a good five seconds and it was enough to rattle the dishes," said Paul Belisle of Lewiston. "I was sitting and reading, and I could hear it or feel it come and go." Sheriff's departments in Oxford, Androscoggin and Kennebec counties received many phone calls from residents. The most recent quake in Maine was in the Albion area Dec. 24 and measured 2.9 on the Richter scale, according to the U.S. Geological Survey. The largest quake recorded in Maine in 10 years was centered in Winslow last February and registered 3.8 on the scale.

Two killed when ATV flips

LITTLETON, N.H.—A man and woman from Littleton were killed when their four-wheeler flipped, authorities said. Terry Perkins, 48, and Joyce Lasko, 45, were trying to ride up an embankment on a boat launch access road late Saturday, according to state Fish and Game conservation officer Todd Bogardus. The all-terrain vehicle flipped over backwards and crushed them, he said. Neither was wearing a helmet. Bogardus said blood was taken from the victims to see whether they were under the influence of alcohol.

Thousands of acres protected in '99

PORTLAND—The state, conservation groups and the federal government spent millions of dollars in 1999 to protect Maine woodlands, lakefronts and coastal vistas from encroaching development. End-of-the-year tallies are not yet in. But those involved in conserving Maine's wild areas estimated that thousands of acres were preserved last year for future generations. Many of the deals were brokered by a mix of conservation groups working together to protect local areas they deem vital. For example, the Maine Chapter of the Nature Conservancy bought 347 acres and more than two miles of frontage along the Saco River. The shoreline is the best example of an intact river floodplain in the Northeast, conservancy spokesman Bruce Kidman said. The vernal pools, oxbow ponds and other features are used by a variety of creatures, including peregrine falcons, spotted salamanders, deer, moose and bears. Also protected last year were several farms, which often feature good soil and water resources that are attractive to developers.

Skiing innovator dead at 76

AUBURN—Businessman and inventor Otto Wallingford, a co-founder of the Lost Valley Ski Area and developer of a machine that revolutionized snow grooming for skiers, died Sunday at age 76. In 1971, Wallingford invented a powder maker that transformed the slopes by converting rock-hard snow crusts in groomed powder. The machine improved conditions at ski areas worldwide and brought him honors from the industry. An Auburn native, Wallingford studied agricultural engineering at the University of Maine. In 1961 he and a childhood friend, Dr. Camille Gardner, opened Lost Valley. Wallingford also put together the first snowmaking system in the state and also made Lost Valley the first area in Maine to offer night skiing. Fern Pontbriand of Auburn became Wallingford's and Gardner's partner at Lost Valley in 1967, then bought the business from them in 1988.

BERLIN, N.H.—A photographic exhibition entitled "Multiple Exposures & Primary Forests," featuring the work of N. Jeffrey LaBerge, opens Jan. 8 at the Northern Forest Heritage Park. The exhibit emphasizes the photographer's unique in-camera technique of multiple imagery, a technique of double and triple exposures done in the camera. LaBerge uses the primary forest as its prime subject matter. An opening reception will take place from 1 to 4 p.m.

"It will be a fun day," Laux told the selectmen Monday, "but it will require us for safety purposes to close off Main Street."

This would be the first time Main Street has been closed for an extended period of time, according to the selectmen's recollection. "There's no precedent for closing off Main Street," said chairman Dutch Dresser.

Nonetheless, they said they had no problem with the idea, provided Laux first address a number of issues, including providing alternative routes for emergency services and other traffic (especially traffic coming into town on Vernon Street), assuring their was no conflict with services at the Methodist Church, and assuring the board that merchants along the way did not object.

"I would hate to give the nod to this and then find out 10 merchants thought it was a lousy idea," Dresser said. Laux replied that most village merchants were already familiar with the proposal, and supported it.

He is expected to return to the board a later date with more details.

From the Bethel Police Log:

What could those blue lights be?

At 4 p.m. on Dec. 30 police were notified that the Shelburne, N.H. police chief was following a van eastbound on Route 2 that was failing to stop for him. The chief stated that the vehicle was not speeding but had seen the police car, which was displaying blue lights. The Bethel officer engaged in the pursuit at the intersection of Route 2 and the Bog Road. The Shelburne chief then passed the offending vehicle, forcing it to stop. The occupants said they did not think the blue, unmarked Shelburne car was a police vehicle, even though they had no problem determining the white, unmarked Bethel car was. The Bethel officer then cleared. He later spoke with the Shelburne chief, who said he had a lengthy discussion with the parties and educated them regarding what vehicles could be considered a "police car."

Wednesday, Dec. 29

At 3 p.m. a subject entered the police office and reported the door to the car wash office was unlocked. On arrival the officer found the padlock open and the door ajar. A check found nothing out of the ordinary. A check of the auto wash showed a subject inside with his vehicle, unable to exit because of malfunctioning doors. After the subject escaped, the officer secured the office door and planned to contact the owner.

Thursday, Dec. 30

At 5:10 p.m. police assisted a county deputy at a car accident on routes 5 and 35. The car was on fire when the officer arrived, and he assisted the rescue and fire units with traffic.

Friday, Dec. 31

At 10:20 p.m. police received a report that a four-foot-tall lighted Santa and a string of outside Christmas lights had been stolen from a Mayville yard. The Santa had been weighted down with lead at the base, and was worn from years of use.

At 11:55 p.m. police stopped a vehicle for vehicle defects on Mill Hill. It was discovered the driver had alcohol in the vehicle and had been consuming it. He was given field sobriety tests and found not to be under the influence, but due to his age he was not allowed to operate the vehicle further. The alcohol was confiscated and the subjects, Tony J. Merrill, 18, of Bryant Pond and Rodney Levesque, 20, of Bethel, were summonsed for illegal transportation of alcohol by a minor and illegal possession of alcohol by a minor, respectively.

Saturday, Jan. 1

At 1:29 a.m. police stopped a subject on Church Street and found she showed signs of intoxication. Nicole D. Maslowski, 24, of Nashua, N.H., was given several field sobriety tests and based on those tests was placed under arrest for OUI. She was taken to the Oxford County Jail, where she was given a breath test and summonses for OUI and speeding (45 mph in a 25 mph zone).

Sunday, Jan. 2

At 2:05 a.m. a subject was found in a Mayville parking lot, and was apparently planning to sleep there. When he saw the officer he started to leave the lot, but left two snowboards behind. The officer picked them up and was about to try to catch the subject when he returned. The officer found the subject had smoked marijuana earlier and a search of the vehicle showed a pot pipe with a residue, a small baggie of marijuana and two bottles of beer. The subject, Corey M. Magee, 19, of Syossett, N.Y., was summonsed for possession of drug paraphernalia, possession of marijuana and illegal transportation of alcohol by a minor.

Monday, Jan. 3

At 8:24 a.m. a Sunday River Road business employee reported that on arriving at work he found someone had thrown a rock through a window and removed about 14 snowboards. The case is under investigation.

This report highlights points of interest from the Bethel Police Department log, but does not include all reports of police activity. To reach the Bethel Police Department, call 911 in emergency situations, 824-3437 in non-emergencies.

sweethearts after the spring drive. Spruce gum enjoyed its heyday for only a few more years after Bragg's construction of his factory, as such huge enterprises as Wrigley Company dominated the chewing gum market. The Spruce Gum Refinery was passed on to the Upton Grange in 1911, and for many decades served as the town's social mecca, housing Grange meetings and activities, hunters' breakfasts, town meetings and ensuing suppers, parties, dances and box suppers. The floors shook as people from miles around do-si-doed under the cheery glow of the oil lanterns, which lined the walls of the hall. Accounts of such activities are portrayed in Louise Dickinson Rich's "Happy the Land" and "We Took to the Woods," and former participants often share their own fond reminiscences of favorite events they attended.

Recently, an independent Boston-based film company arrived in Upton with a production crew to shoot footage of the old Spruce Gum Factory/Grange Hall for inclusion in a short historical spoof, which focuses largely on Grafton Notch.

Carly Has Type 1 Diabetes. What About The Rest Of The Family?

Carly is eight. She has an older brother, a younger brother, and a little sister and two devoted parents. Carly also has type 1 or juvenile diabetes. Her parents were shocked when she was diagnosed because no one on either parent's side has diabetes. Now her folks are concerned about their other kids and themselves. They need to know what the odds are that other family members may get diabetes. If you have a close relative with type 1 diabetes, you may be eligible for a free screening to determine your risk of developing type 1 diabetes, and a study to prevent diabetes. All family members meeting the screening criteria are eligible to be tested.* Call today to learn more.

Police calls

however, strongly supported the policy of allowing BPD officers to cross the town line in emergency situations).

As for the complaints, it was hardly the first time town officials have heard them. And in response Town Manager Scott Cole last month floated the idea of asking surrounding towns to voluntarily contribute a small amount of money annually (he suggested $500) to help defray the cost of the calls.

Cole stressed that whether or not a town chose to contribute, Bethel would not alter its policy of responding when needed.

"When the resources (police) are available you use the resources – it's the right thing to do," he told the selectmen. When there is a situation that needs and immediate police response, he said, "then the police cars roll. I don't think it would fair to ask our police officers not to respond."

Nonetheless, he said, "The Bethel tax base finances that operation," and the only practical way of spreading that cost around would be to ask the other towns for a voluntary contribution.

Bob Everett termed it: "A good idea in one respect, a bad idea in another respect."

The downside for Everett was the likelihood residents in the other towns would come to believe the voluntary contribution was in effect buying them additional police services.

Don Bennett agreed. "I would not refuse if somebody offered up a voluntary contribution," Bennett said, but he worried that if Bethel accepted the money, the BPD would soon be getting calls to come find bicycles or investigate month-old camp break-ins.

On balance, he said, the small amount of money was outweighed by "the flak we're going to get, the calls we'll receive from people who don't understand the whole situation."

Board Chairman Dutch Dresser saw a slippery slope in the making. "I'm worried about putting a price tag on neighborliness, which to me this amounts to. I suspect when you have overlapping jurisdictions like this and a scarce resource, which is emergency personnel, that there'll always be imperfection. As long as we can be neighborly without doing serious damage to ourselves, I think we ought to do it."

Everett agreed. "If you do it with the Police Department, do you do it with the Fire Department, with the ambulance service?" he asked. "Where do you draw the line?"

The board members also agreed that what they were dealing with was primarily a perception problem, and that many of the complaints from Bethel residents would likely fade away if people understood the true nature of the out-of-town calls – that is, that they are emergency responses, not routine activities.

The calls, said Dresser are probably "far more justified than people think. What we need to do is educate people about what's really going on, and that if they looked at it objectively they'd agree it's a good thing to do."

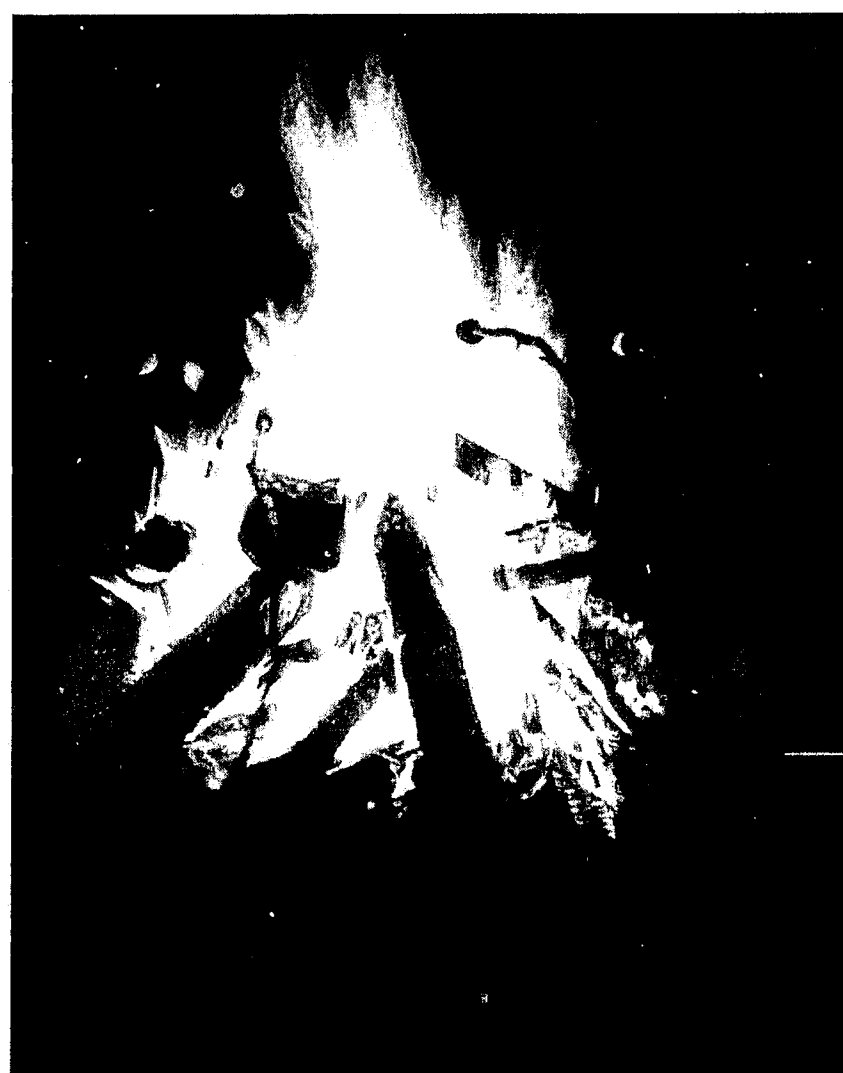

Cole's proposal was tabled.

'If you do it with the Police Department, do you do it with the Fire Department, with the ambulance service?'

Eagle Court of Honor held for Adam Tanguay

Bethel Boy Scout Troop 565 recently held an Eagle Court of Honor to recognize the accomplishments of one of its members. This event is considered rare because only two out of every 100 boys who start out as a cub scout reach this important rank.

Adam Tanguay reached this point by earning the required 12 merit badges plus nine more, to make a total of 21. He had to serve in a leadership position within the Troop 565 and finally he had to complete a community service project which was beneficial to an organization and demonstrated organization and leadership skills. Once he had met all of these requirements he had to pass a scoutmaster's conference on a local level, an Eagle Board of Review on the district level, and finally a review on the national level before he could advance to this rank.

The ceremony was held at the West Parish Congregational Church in Bethel with Steve Mulligan, Troop committee chairman, as the master of ceremonies. The troop opened the Eagle Court of Honor with the presentation of the flag of the United States and the troop flag. Then a lighted candle representing the "Spirit of Scouting" was presented by Eagle Scout Mark Tanguay and Adrian Caron in full Native American regalia, representing the Order of the Arrow, a service organization within the boy scouts. Troop members Brandon Roberts and Jason Howe lit 12 candles as Adam recited the 12 points of the Scout Law. The Rev. Jean Bass opened and closed the ceremony with a prayer. Adam's parents, Eugene and Lorraine Tanguay, were escorted to the front of the church to share in the recognition of Adam's accomplishments. "The Four Winds" Ceremony was presented by Order of the Arrow members, Mark Tanguay, Adrian Caron, Sean Arnold and Jonathan Stevens.

The Eagle Charge and Challenge were read to Adam to remind him of the responsibilities of his new rank. Ray Harrington read some of the more than 100 letters of congratulations which Adam had received, which included past and present presidents of the United States, state and local legislators, governors and religious leaders, astronauts and national corporate leaders. One letter that stood out was a letter received from Eagle Scout Steven Spielberg, who told of his scouting memories and of making his first movie as a young boy scout which earned him the Cinematography merit badge and got him started in the movie industry.

A slide presentation depicting Adam's scouting career, beginning with Tiger Cubs in 1992 and ending with his Eagle Project, was played. An Official Proclamation was presented by state Rep. Arlan Jodrey. A plaque from the county commissioners was presented to Adam for his outstanding service to Albany Township. Other presentations made during the ceremony were from Rumford Order of the Elks, Steven Mulligan and Ray Harrington.

Adam's Service Project was to bring Albany Township in compliance with the E-911 requirements. Prior to Adam starting his project, none of the roads in Albany had street signs. Adam worked very closely with Ken Whitman of the Oxford County Emergency Management Agency, which had already named the roads in Albany. Adam labeled a map and gave it to Road Agent Everett Hatstat so that he could install all of the signs. Adam and members of Troop 565 assembled the signs. On May 8, Adam called a work day. Members of Troop 565, along with many members of the community turned out to help with putting up the signs.

York were Peter and Sharon Kaiser and Jeff of Keene, N.H.; Kara and Scott Hutchins of Keene, N.H.; David and Betsy York of South Paris, and Susan and Jeff Leighton and family of Scarborough. Daughter Sharon stayed for the week.

Larry and Marlene Engdahl of Guilford, Conn., have purchased the Jodrey house on Clark Street. While in Bethel they will visit with Jackie Van Leuven until their new home is ready to move into.

The Bethel House

How many of you that are collecting the new quarters have all five? The states are Delaware, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Georgia and Connecticut. The five for 2000 are Massachusetts, Maryland, South Carolina, New Hampshire and Virginia. Five will be issued each year for 10 years. Since Maine was the 23rd state to enter the Union, it will be the third one in 2003. Good luck to all of you trying to collect them.

I did not see the full moon on the 21st because of clouds, but I did see it on the 22nd and it sure was beautiful.

JoAnne Sawyer visited me a few days before Christmas and brought me some nice things in a pretty basket. Among the things in the basket were fudge and cookies, so I did not put it on the tree. I also had a little brown teddy bear among the presents. I put him back in the basket with four other tiny teddy bears and put them near the tree. I have named the bear "Joe," but I may decide to name him something different.

Elaine Dresser came on Thursday and brought me some munchkins. They sure will taste good a number of mornings with a cup of coffee. Elaine and I also played a game of cribbage. I won and now we are tied at seven each.

Patty Greig also came on Thursday and brought me some delicious fudge and visited awhile. Patty and Jack left Dec. 26 for Daytona Beach, Fla., to spend the winter months. Patty's son, Richard, and friend will live in Patty and Jack's home while they are away.

Another one playing Santa on Thursday was Cindy Millett. She visited awhile and left me a gift to put on my tree.

Clara Whitman and Rebecca Whitman visited Mildred Newell at Market Square Health Care Facility on Friday.

Bertha Grover of Rowe Hill, Greenwood, visited me on Friday and left me a gift. I truly hope she finds time to come back and play cribbage.

Pastor Rick was another Friday visitor. We played two games of cribbage and he won both, so he is now two games ahead. While he was here, Cathy Newell and daughter Martha came and we all had a good time visiting. Cathy brought me some homemade needhams and also gift certificates to Pat's Pizza.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gallant of Mechanic Street spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Fleet and family in Hanover. Peanut and Barbara's two sons were expected to join them.

Barbara Gallant brought me a gift on Friday and visited awhile. It was a wonderful week for me with so much company.

On Christmas Day, Drew and Judy Webster entertained David Webster, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Webster and baby.

Well, it was a cold but nice Christmas and it certainly could have been a lot colder. I sure had a wonderful day. Nancy Cummings came for me at 11:30 a.m. I went up to her house and she, Sonny and I had cheeseburgers for lunch. After lunch Nancy and I played three games of cribbage and Nancy won all three. They were close games, but she won them all. When I got home, I looked back to Christmas of '98 and we played three games and that day I won two.

Well, about 3:30 p.m. Sonny, Nancy and I went to Newry to Rhonda and "Bunk" Bunker's for a delicious nighttime meal. Darcie and Darren were also there.

Rhonda and Bunk have some cats and one big black and white one laid in my lap a lot. As I love cats, I was very pleased that he did. Rhonda sent enough food home for me to last a couple of days and maybe longer.

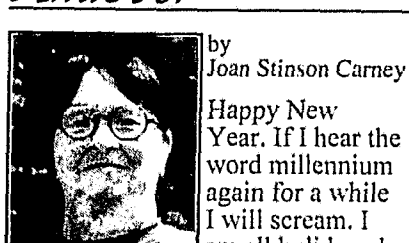

Rebecca Ricker had Christmas dinner with Mildred Newell at Market Square Health Care Facility.

Christopher Hanscom arrived at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Hanscom, on Christmas Eve, and Christmas Day. Ronnie, Chris and Christopher had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bragdon and sons, Matthew and Mitchell.

Vada Glover spent the day with me on Tuesday. She was up 47 times in '99 and visited me twice at Norway Rehab, and once in CMMC. On Tuesday we played 16 games of cribbage and we have a total of 2,124 for 1996 through 1999 and Vada is two ahead. We went to Pat's Pizza for dinner. We had a great day.

Andover

by Joan Stinson Carney
Happy New Year. If I hear the word millennium again for a while I will scream. I am all holidayed out and am really glad it's all over but the shouting.

I am writing this from Andover, the town considered by some as the end of the known world. O.K., I'm really angry. Maybe I'm reading something into something that wasn't intended to be the way I am taking it. But, on Wednesday, Dec. 29, a letter to the editor in the Lewiston Sun Journal stated, and I quote, "How would you feel if your employer considered moving to Andover and the residents there, blinded by gold fever, got your elected officials to take sides against you," end quote.

First of all, Andover doesn't really want or need you. It hasn't been a secret that for the most part, we, the residents of Andover, like the town just the way it is. We, again for the most part, are not blinded by the pursuit of gold and believe it or not, our elected officials are all honest, caring people who would not, under any circumstances, vote to do anything that would affect the good of the town. Again, for the most part we feel very lucky that we live where we do, in a beautiful valley surrounded by caring people who would stand in line to help if you needed help, go out of their way in fact to make sure that you were okay.

Andover isn't Heaven, but what place is? I know that this, coming from me will surprise a lot of people who know me, but the people of Andover have been very good to me over the years, and I will always be ready to defend it from scurrilous slurs from people who don't know any better. Amen.

Here is a partial list of people who came home for the Holidays: Maggie (Jodrey) Humphrey and her daughter, Melissa, from Grandy, Ga.; Julie (Akers) Gribbin and her daughters, Bridget and Brenna, from Doylestown, Pa. Among Helen (Glover) Wakefield's guests at a Christmas buffet were Jimmy Jr., Tina Peterson, Ken Wakefield, Linda and Corbin Salway. Betty Moore entertained Shirley, Robert, Kirstin and Lindsey Geloran.

Welcome to the world, Savannah Waite. The proud parents are Sharon and Steve Waite of Andover and her proud grandparents are Pastor Duane and Joan Waite of Andover. Her, we hope, proud sisters are Shasha and Sierra.

Philip Tepley of Andover is recovering from surgery at Maine Medical Center, Portland. He is the father of Cheryl Morin.

The Snow Valley Snow Goers are having a potluck dinner/meeting at the Andover Congregational Church on Saturday, Jan. 8, at 5:30 p.m.

Elaine Morton told me that she has about a dozen pine grosbeaks visiting in her yard. She says they are very beautiful, and she hasn't seen them around before.

There will be a Public Hearing on Jan. 18, at 6:30 p.m. at Andover Town Hall. Under discussion will be several articles on interest. Andover residents will be receiving a questionnaire in the mail soon. The selectmen would appreciate it if you could fill it out and return it before Jan. 14.

What do the colors of the American Flag stand for? White for purity, Red for courage and Blue for integrity. See ya.

Ryan and Sheila Bernier of South Carolina returned home Jan. 1 after spending Christmas and New Year's with Flossie and Andre Bernier.

The Berniers had a big New Year's Eve gathering.

George and Barbara Bethel Jr., with George and a friend from New York had Christmas dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Mike Connolly of Westbrook. Later they had a big dinner at home, with Ruth Bethel, over for dinner.

Donna Bernard took Polly Smith to dinner at Breaux's on Jan. 1. Polly treated Donna for her birthday.

Mona and I enjoyed a nice Christmas holiday with a trip to Illinois and a visit to my older daughter and her three kids. It was fun watching the grandkids with their new "stuff," and I was pleased that the youngest, Jana, took a liking to her grandpa.

But it was nice to get away from the little ones after a few days of not being able to do much outside due to the cold and wind. The only drawback was that we both caught, a 24-hour flu bug there, apparently, a different strain than we have in New England. Ours began with a period of upset stomachs and vomiting, followed by a general feeling of tiredness and malaise, gradually improving after about 24 hours.

New Year's found a large group of family and friends at the big, new house at "the farm" in Mason. Four generations of Grovers took part in the festivities. There were all kinds of activities there, from afternoon skating on the little pond, to several different table games, after a bountiful buffet-style supper. As usual, Rupert and Ina were model host and hostess for the evening; a good time was had by all, and nobody got hurt.

On Jan. 5, at the Baptist Church, a new children's club, called "Patch the Pirate," will start for grades one through six at 6:30 p.m. Also at the same time is something for preschool children and prayer meeting for adults. The annual business meeting will be held on Jan. 18.

I am sure many families got together on Christmas, but I haven't heard from anyone.

We had 13 for dinner and 20 for supper on Christmas Day.

Judith Grover Tent 17 Daughters of Union Veterans will meet on Monday, Jan. 10, at the Grange Hall for a 6 p.m. potluck supper and installation of officers.

On Christmas Eve, Phelps and Joan Poland had their children and families up for supper and presents. Ina Dunn and Aarne Jarvenpää also joined them for the evening.

Terry and Phil Merrill had a belated Christmas so that their children could be here. Amy and Danny Bru and son Logan came from Mobile, Ala., to spend a few days. Their son, Andrew, and Lissa Butts from South Carolina joined them, also.

Amy, Danny and Logan had Christmas in Mobile with Danny's parents prior to coming to Maine. Danny loves the cold weather.

Terry Merrill told me they've done very well collecting slips from Shop 'N Save for the school in West Paris.

Zachary Lynch spent some time with his grandmother, Kellie Record, this past week. I also had the pleasure of having him spend the day with me on Thursday. Richard had off from work so he helped me watch him. Zachary is about nine months old and very lively.

Claribel Poland has been quite sick with the flu. Hopefully, he'll feel better real soon.

Tommy Poland spent Christmas Eve with Sandra and Mike Monza and family in Oxford. Christmas morning was spent with Tracy Poland and children opening gifts. Later on Christmas morning she joined Judy and Dave Brown and their grandchildren for breakfast. Christmas afternoon she was home and was visited by Dennis and Debbie Poland, Sherri Poland and Dee and Heath Poland and Torey. Tommy is a very busy lady.

On Thursday after Christmas, Tracy Poland and Tommy Poland paid Rachel and Kyle Curtis a visit in East Waterboro. Rachel has done some redecorating and they wanted to see what she had been up to. Rachel is the daughter of Tracy Poland.

We've been having many birds at our feeders lately -- lots and lots of redpolls. They are so interesting to watch.

Those celebrating birthdays in January 2000 (I love to write that number) are: Ann Long, Jane Chandler, James Gallagher, Vic Hart, Lisa Mack, Todd Poland, Stacy Tilley, Matt Moore, Jim Mason Sr., Elmer Waterhouse. Also, Happy Birthday to my great-great nephew, Brandon Dunn, who is two years old this month.

Every year around this time I think of my brother, Gerald Poland, who died in World War II in the Battle of the Bulge. He died on Jan. 6, 1945. I still remember the day we heard the news, even though I was very young.

Rick and Sally Wing and family joined us for Christmas Eve. We had a nice lunch and opened presents. Jessie Hart also came for a while. Late Christmas Day, we went down to Kellie and Brad Record's for lunch and gifts. Sarah Hart worked late Christmas Eve, so we celebrated Christmas Day.

Last week my news stated that Murrill Blazier celebrated her birthday. Murrill is a he. Sorry for the error. He is my next-door neighbor.

This is a cold December evening that wasn't ushered in with a glowing western sky but crept across the valley, merging day into night so subtly that I was left wondering how and when it became dark. The temperature all day held below freezing and there is no snow.

Christmas trees are over. This tree seems to have originated in Germany and can be traced back with certainty to the year 1604. There is a pretty legend in connection with it, which makes St. Winfrid the inventor of the idea.

"In the midst of a crowd of converts he hewed down a giant oak which had formerly been the object of Druidic worship. As it fell backward like a tower, groaning as it split asunder into four pieces, there stood just behind it, unharmed by the ruin, a young fir tree, pointing a green spire toward the stars.

"Winfrid let the ax drop and turned to speak to the people. This little tree, a young child of the forest, shall be your holy tree tonight. It is a sign of an endless life, for its leaves are ever green. See how it points upward to heaven! Let it be called the tree of the Christ Child; gather about it, not in the wilderness, but in your homes; there it will shelter no deeds of blood, but loving gifts and rights of kindness."

--author unknown.

There was a gentle murmur among the branches overhead. The air was filled with the tangy fragrance of evergreens and the wind was nippy.

For generations these green trees have been placed in homes. The star at the top is a symbol that in the hearts of men there is a dream that one day war will vanish forever. The Grail for which they seek is peace on earth, good will to men.

Not the least of wonders is the Birth of One in the stable; a simple beginning -- "One who came to speak to multitudes of justice, freedom and right."

There were the usual gatherings on Christmas with fun and goodwill.

We all made it to see the year 2000. It seems a little bit strange writing the date in your check book with two zeros when you are pretty sure that your balance is very close to one zero after Christmas shopping. Never fear, the first of the month is here with a nice new deposit and bills arriving daily to be paid.

Since the last year of the century is now history, let us recount a few of the "earthshaking" events that occurred during 1999.

First of all I would like to mention that the church steeple has been completed and will stand safely for a few more years. We plan, at some time in the future, to replace the two front doors. They have shrunk with age and weather. They blow open sometimes in strong winds, even though they are locked. They have been painted, so that project will have to wait. Thank you to all who made the tower repairs possible.

Next, the new town garage is completed except for hot topping and landscaping.

The library was opened by Sue Angevine and Vi Bernier, with a lot of hard work. There are a great variety of books available. Come in and see for yourself.

There was a minor construction boom in town with several new homes built and older houses renovated. The Ladies Aide is to be commended for the extra effort in providing suppers, breakfasts, fairs and quilt raffles.

The Scenic Highway Committee has been at work since last spring putting a plan in motion to include bringing the Scenic Highway to the New Hampshire border.

There has been a concentrated effort by the road commissioner, Roger Lavalley, to keep the roads sanded and plowed in a timely manner.

Although there were some difficulties maintaining a good working transfer station, it will all work out when the recycling message is received and practiced by all people using the site.

We have had a lot of fun with the "Bird of the Week". Thank you to all the people who called to report the sighting of the first robin to the last flicker seen.

There were visitors in town for the Christmas and New Year's holidays, from New York, Massachusetts, southern Maine, Rhode Island and Connecticut. A lack of snow did not deter the snowmobilers. A few stalwart souls ventured up the lake along the edge and Sunday three "bob houses" were moved onto the lake. Then the January thaw began. The Maine Warden Service has stated that there are no safe lakes in Maine, so we advise caution. Larry Nelson and Dr. Don Hartrick reported a large "pressure ridge" at "B" Point on the big lake. We really need an old-fashioned cold snap to secure the ice, not a thaw.

The deer have started to "yard up." Walt Stanczyk has a "calico deer" daily at the back of his house. It is a strange looking animal with the rear end of its back white. The under parts are also white. There is some variegation of gray, brown and white elsewhere, with a white spot on its snout. The sex has not been determined. It is a young animal.

We were surprised to learn that there are still some ducks around the lake, although there isn't any open water, except in the Dead Cambridge River. These birds are now number one on the food chain for the fox, weasel, mink and coyote. Come to think of it "roast duck" sounds pretty good. Just a passing thought. I really wouldn't eat the "Bird of the Week," so the mallard duck is safe for now.

Sunday River Valley

We made it to the new millennium unscathed. New Year's Bethel was fun. I spent the evening with ex-neighbor Nancy and Kevin. We enjoyed the parade, dinner at Café DiCocca, the evening's events including the bonfire and fireworks. It was great to spend the New Year with friends and see so many friends all through the evening.

One of the acts we saw was Wake the Neighbors. It was a high-energy group that played fiddle and banjo tunes. I am hoping the Newry Recreation Committee will invite them back to play a contra dance for us.

Saw Peggy and Brad today. Peggy's had that bothersome flu, but Brad is looking fine. To those of you wondering how he's doing, I say, go visit him. He's usually home this time of year.

The Valley was surprisingly quiet for Christmas vacation. The only time the traffic was a bother was when one tried to leave and couldn't get beyond the stop sign. It seems to me that I remember that when they planned that stop sign we were told that Sunday River Ski Resort would have someone directing traffic so we wouldn't get stuck there. What about it Steve? Les?

Other than that, the area has seemed rather quiet for a holiday week. People have seemed more friendly and in less of a rush than usual. Seems right for the start of a new millennium.

I am looking forward to the end of the week when a good friend is supposed to come up to go dog-sledding with Liz and Andy. Don't know how they will do it without snow and the ice threatening to melt, but I guess they'll figure it out and then I'll get to see them. I missed their visit to Common Ground, so I'm really hoping to catch up on Friday.

Happy New Year to all and welcome to the year 2000.

I hope everyone had a Happy New Year. Alder River Grange will have a regular meeting at 7 p.m. on Jan. 8 at Stanley Howe's home on Broad Street. There will be a soup or chowder at 6 p.m. This is a Saturday, so that those who want to can play a card game after the meeting, if enough people are interested.

The Woodstock-Greenwood Senior Citizens will meet on Thursday, Jan. 6, at the Town Annex for a potluck dinner and game party. Please bring either a salad, hot dish or dessert and your own place setting, plus a gift for game prizes. All senior citizens are welcome to join. The meeting starts at 11:30 a.m. with lunch at noon.

The Historical Society is looking forward to further development in the future. Its members are active and dedicated. Curator Larry Billings has put a framed genealogy of his mother's family in the society museum. That was the line with most of the distinguished ancestors. The society will meet on Jan. 8.

From the Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center

Reminder: There will be no monthly meetings of Bethel Historical Society January through April. Instead, following the new format announced last week, a course, "Three Centuries of Bethel's Past," will be offered each month. On Jan. 25, the 18th century will be the topic; Feb. 29, the 19th century; March 28, the 20th century; and April 29, tour of Bethel historic sites. A panel of specialists in Bethel's past will be available to discuss each century with opportunities for plenty of interaction between the panel and those taking the course. To register or for more information, please call the society office at 824-2908 or (800) 824-2910.

Several hundred enthusiastic celebrants attended the 2nd annual New Year's Bethel celebration on Dec. 31 in Bethel. This family-oriented, chemical free event, sponsored by the Bethel Historical Society in cooperation with the Mahosuc Arts Council and the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce, offered a wide variety of entertainment for all ages.

Among the venues this year were Jewel Clark and Donny Katlin (country music), George Worthley and Carole Clark (Scottish music), Maine Humorist Gary Crocker, State Street Jazz Band, Fred "Ziplin" Garbo, Molly Ockett Chorus (women's barbershop), Wake the Neighbors (Celtic music), and "Millennium" Bill Morton, spinning some of today's tunes.

Festivities got underway with the lighted vehicle parade at 6 p.m. followed by the lighting of the bonfire on the Common by Society President Alvin Barth. The venues began at 7 p.m. and continued most of the evening. At 11:45 p.m. the winner of the very special heirloom quilt, made by Mabel Kennett with assistance from some of the quilters in the area, became known when Society Trustee Chairman Walter Hatch drew the winning ticket, that of Rebecca Kendall of Bethel. Fireworks at midnight, sponsored by the Bethel Inn, capped off the evening and brought in the year 2000.

A food court was available at the Dr. Moses Mason House meeting room with chili, coffee, tea and hot chocolate served by the society, finger sandwiches and brownies by Alder River Grange, and hot dogs and popcorn by the local Boy Scouts.

Sponsors for the event this year included Lee M. Barth, Bethel Animal Hospital, Exxon Corporation, E. Marna McGinniss, Pooh Corner Farm and Greenhouses, Michael S. Stowell, Margaret Joy Tibbetts, Sam and Nan Timberlake,

Western Maine Supply, and several anonymous donors. Much appreciation is expressed to the above for their support.

This is truly a community event, chaired by Susan Herlihy, which would not be possible without the help of many volunteers from the steering committee, to those who manage the venues to all those who helped in so many different ways. Thanks go to everyone who made the event possible again this year.

With a membership exceeding 1,100 in more than 45 states, the Bethel Historical Society is western Maine's largest and most comprehensive full-time organization devoted to collecting, preserving and interpreting the regional past for present and future generations. The society has been sponsoring heritage-oriented events for more than 30 years. It operates a Regional History Center (research library, museum, exhibitions, educational programming and publications) from its two National Register properties, the Dr. Moses Mason House and the O'Neil Robinson House, both on Broad Street in the center of the Bethel Historic District.

From Tri-Town Rescue

Tri-Town Rescue elected new officers at its annual meeting, effective Jan. 1, 2000. Mike Dixon of Andover is the new chief of service, Annella Burnham is the new auxiliary president, and Mary Emery is the new coordinator. Most of the other positions were re-elected.

The new Board of Directors includes Mary Emery, coordinator; Viola Whitman, treasurer; and Norm St. Pierre, secretary. Also members of the board are Dixon as chief, Jim Worobe as search and rescue representative, and Burnham as auxiliary president.

Auxiliary officers are: Annella Burnham, president; Peggy Theofrastau, vice president; Rena Robinson, secretary; and Viola

Whitman, treasurer.

Search and rescue officers are: Ray Cooley, team leader; Jim Worobe, assistant team leader; Jane Chandler, secretary; and Dustin Howe, training officer.

The addition in back of the training room is proceeding well, thanks to the warm December and early January. The roof is now on and inside work can proceed. The room will include sleeping quarters, a shower and expanded storage.

Tri-Town Rescue made almost $400 on the recent quilt raffle, which was donated by Joyce Howe of Bryant Pond. The service money is for a new defibrillator to replace a very old defibrillator/monitor.

From the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce

Happy New Year to all from the staff of the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce. We were very grateful to come in to our office on Monday morning, turn on the computers and everything was fine. This is largely a result of many days of testing, checking and "patching" done by John Jacobs, a newcomer to our area and a good friend of staff member Emily Beers. Thanks, John.

The week between Christmas and New Year's is always an extremely busy one here at the chamber. Many thanks to Shonna Young for her help in the office and to our loyal volunteers Ruth Silver and Al Cressy for helping us with the Snowmen Fest brochures.

We also had a snowman to build on the Bethel Common last week to be ready for the New Year's Bethel celebration. It happened, thanks to our snowman builders Jim Sysko, Dave Berry, Paula Wheeler and Emily Beers, who did a fantastic job. Many thanks to Sally Hannon and Telstar Middle School students for making our Angus, Jr. his new hat. Also, a big thanks to Sunday River Ski Resort for donating the snow, to Bill Brown and Jody Brown for coordinating that, to Snowmen Fest committee members, Mary McPheters and Jim Mann for all their help, and to Dick Douglass for delivering the snow. This is the first snowman of the 2000, so, as soon as the snow flies we all need to get busy making the other 1999.

Remember the heavy winds of December? Those winds tried to destroy all of the beautiful pole swags our volunteers worked so hard on. Our dedicated elf friend, Dave Frieday, worked all day last Friday to save what he could and redecorate as many poles as we had greens and bows for. This was not a job for the faint-hearted and Dave did it all by himself. Thanks so much to him for his dedication to the beauty of our Main Street.

All are invited to the monthly Community Networking Breakfast, scheduled for Wednesday, Jan. 12, from 7:30 to 9 a.m., at The Loft on Route 2, Bethel. A continental breakfast will be served for $3 per person. In addition to the general updates, there will be a discussion on the upcoming Utility Restructuring. If you are interested in attending, please RSVP to the chamber office, 824-2282 by Tuesday, Jan. 11.

The chamber would like to congratulate the Bethel Historical Society and New Year's Bethel Committee chairwoman, Susan Herlihy, for a fantastic event. Bravo.

RED GRAMMER IN CONCERT FOR FAMILIES
On Saturday, Jan. 8, Sunday River's Black Diamond Family Entertainment Series will present Red Grammer in concert at 7 p.m. in the Grand Ballroom of the Grand Summit Resort Hotel. Critically acclaimed recording artist, Red Grammer, one of the most sought-after children's performers in the nation has defined contemporary children's music and set the standard for excellence. Consistently winning awards for music with richly innovative lyrics and strong musical expression, Grammer and his wife (co-lyricist Kathy Grammer) write music for families. The Grammers recognize and respect the power of music to influence young hearts and minds and have a unique talent for giving voice to children's feelings. They began collaborating on children's music while he was still lead vocalist for the legendary folk group, "The Limelites." Grammer's most recent release, "Hello World!" has received seven national awards including the Parents' Choice Magazine "Seal of Approval." Grammer has one of the best voices in the business today. His powerful, expressive voice grabs the listener and the music just keeps 'em coming back for more. "Superstar to the young and a hit with parents too!" says CBS News This Morning. Tickets for this family event are $3 for under 12 and $5 for adults in advance or $5 and $7 at the door. Tickets are available on-mountain at the South Ridge Lodging check-in, the Snow Cap Inn, the Grand Summit Resort Hotel or at Books 'N Things in Bethel. For more information, please call (207) 824-3575.

AN 1890S VIEW FROM THE OLD BETHEL FIRE HOUSE TOWER of the common is shown as it looked in winter. In the center of the photo is the Bethel House (burned in 1911), which sits about where the new addition to the Bethel Inn is today. To the east are the John Hastings House (now Stan Howe's), the Gideon Hastings House (now John Amann's), the David Hammons House (Steedman's), and the house now owned by Frank and Jane Vogt. This photograph is one of thousands that can be found at the Bethel Historical Society, which also possesses an outstanding collection of manuscripts, books, documents, and artifacts relating to western Maine and northern New Hampshire. The society is currently raising funds for its Regional History Center on Broad Street in the 1821 O'Neil Robinson House, which now houses the museum shop, exhibit galleries, and offices, but when completed will also provide improved storage space and greater access to collections as well as rooms devoted to educational activities, research, and traditional crafts. Once the center is fully operational it will offer an expanded series of lectures, special events, conferences, courses, seminars, and publications. To learn more about this project, call the society at 824-2908 or (800) 824-2910 or use the e-mail address history@bdc.bethel.me.us or visit the Web site <http://lorion.bdc.bethel.me.us/~history>.

Maine Handicapped Skiing

This is the year to take charge. Head up a ski or snowboard team for Maine Handicapped Skiing's 15th annual Ski-A-Thon to be held Saturday, March 18, at Sunday River Ski Resort. You can be a major player in the most exhilarating skiing event in the state of Maine.

The year 2000 marks the 15th time hundreds of downhill and cross-country skiers and snowboarders have taken to the slopes and trails at Sunday River to raise funds for Maine Handicapped Skiing (MHS), a dynamic winter adaptive sports program for people, ages six and over, who have a physical disability. For the last seven years MHS supporters have raised over $200,000 each year.

Join dozens of committed team captains on Saturday, Jan. 8, starting at the Summit Hotel at Sunday River Ski Resort for Maine Handicapped Skiing's Ski-A-thon Team Captain kick-off meeting. Register your team prior to or on the day of the kick-off meeting and you'll ski for free for the rest of the day, either at Sunday River Ski Resort or at the Sunday River Inn and Cross Country Ski Center.

Team captains are asked to arrive at the Summit Hotel between 8 and 9:30 a.m., pick up their team captain registration forms and get their free lift ticket and a special gift. Then ski the morning at Sunday River. At noon, team captains will meet at Maine Handicapped Skiing headquarters at 8 Sundance Lane for lunch and a tour of the MHS facility. Check out our adaptive equipment, learn fundraising tips, and meet our inspiring students and volunteers. And view our program video that has deeply touched thousands of viewers in New England.

A team captain's job is to motivate team members to raise pledges for Maine Handicapped Skiing. Each team consists of five members who must raise a minimum of $600 per team. Top fundraising teams can win great prizes like ski trips, equipment and much more.

Thanks to the incredible support MHS receives from event sponsors, 90 percent of the funds raised at the Ski-A-Thon go directly to program services, allowing MHS to provide 10 weeks of lessons taught by trained volunteers to over 200 students with physical disabilities -- totally free of charge.

If you are interested in becoming a Team Captain for the 15th annual Ski-A-Thon, please contact MHS at (207) 824-2440 or use the e-mail info@skimhs.org. Please join MHS for the greatest ski event in Maine.

DON'T LET IT HAPPEN.

If you think this baby is in danger, it's nothing compared to what can happen as early as the third week of pregnancy, when birth defects of the brain and spinal cord can occur. If you're a woman of childbearing age, take a multivitamin with folic acid every day as part of a healthy diet. Start now, pregnant or not, and help save a baby.
